CLASSES

Bronze Sculpture: Intro by Linda Prokop

An eight-week class with weekly class lasting three hours each.

- Tuesdays: from 1 to 4
- Location: Creator Space
- Dates: March 12, 19, 26, April 2, 9, 16, 23, 30
- Pay through TVAL / Lincoln Gallery
- Cost : $400 (Supply list to be announced)

The focus of this course will be to introduce the student to the fundamental processes involved in creating clay sculptures original for the purpose of casting.

It is going to be an exciting exploration of history, awareness, and ultimately develop a sculpture made by each student.

The class will include field trips and a visit to the foundry.

Students will be directed to develop and idea, abstract, impressionistic or realistic spice of sculpture. Instruction is provided to the student on how to develop compositions, shapes and textural elements.

Supplies will be additional and cost pertain to project choice and size. To start the class the only materials you need is a sketch-book.

Artist Bio

My name is Linda Prokop and I have been a professional bronze sculptor for 25 years. As well as a resident of Loveland, I have two pieces in the Benson Park permanent collection and one sculpture in the Art in Public Places collection (Lake Loveland and Hwy 34). I have other life size and monumental works in public and private collections around the country. Over the years I have participated in numerous galleries from Baltimore to Los Angeles, Seattle and Arizona. I have sold sculptures around the world. I am currently represented by Bronze Coast Gallery, Cannon Beach, Oregon and Andre Kohn Gallery, Scottsdale.
